

Dirty Athens Brass Band and friends: 50 μουσικοί από άλλο πλανήτη!

Dirty Athens Brass Band is a young formation which was born in November 2014 as an initiative to bring the brass band music style in Greece and, especially, in Athens. We, the members of the band, share a common love for music, and, above all, for the mellow sound of the brass instruments. 4 woodwind instrument and 3 percussionists unite their beats and passion together to transform the harsh reality of the streets into a musical scene. Our melodies and rhythms melt into the sounds of the city transforming the usual into unusual. The main goal is to spread the entertainment and the excitement that you can feel hearing live music in a place that was not made in a way friendly to music and culture. We hope that our work has something new and innovative to add to the urban culture scene of Athens bringing a fresh air of multicultural sounds and rhythms blended in way that denotes our perspective on music.

Beyond its street presence, DABB has taken part in numerous events across the city of Athens and tends to support and cooperate with initiatives, festivals and events that share with us common beliefs and thoughts on music and art. One of our main priorities, at least for a year, is to broaden our musical horizons beyond the scene of Athens. Our hope is to accomplish this task by taking part and playing in events all over Greece and even in places out of Greece. This is how we strive to strengthen our flow of innovation and passion into our music. By communication and cultural exchange.
